LAWYERS CLASH IN WILL CASE

Examination of Bank Cashier Brings Sharp Argument on Evidence Adduced.

Sharp retorts flew back and forth across the counsel table in the circuit court room Friday morning, when attorneys interested in the Rebecca Wheeler will case, in which certain heirs at law are attacking the validity of a will made by Mrs. Wheeler, differed as to what was admissible evidence.

Miss Harriet E. Elbel, one of the devisees under the will, cashier of the St. Joseph Loan and Trust Co., which is executor of the estate, was on the stand. Questioning on cross examination revealed the fact that Miss Elbel was unable to recollect the actual amounts of money that the decedent kept on hand during the last three years before her death.

"I will ask you, Miss Elbel, if during the noon hour you will refresh your recollection at the bank as to the amounts of money that Mrs. Wheeler had in the bank three years prior to her death," questioned F. J. Lewis Meyer, co-counsel for the plaintiffs in the action.

Raises Protest.

A storm of protest greeted this question.

"The defendants object," thundered Atty. W. G. Crabbill.

"State your objection," this from Stewart MacKibbin, who is sitting as special judge.

"We object," continued Mr. Crabbill, "on the ground that this is not proper cross examination, that nothing was brought out on direct examination as to Mrs. Wheeler's accounts."

"Anything that pertains to Mrs. Wheeler's business affairs is proper here," responded Mr. Meyer.

The objection was overruled. Thereupon a series of hot shots between the attorneys followed.

In the meantime Miss Elbel appealed to Special Judge MacKibbin as to what she should do.

"Never mind the attorneys and their facetiousness," admonished the special judge. "Just read the question, Mr. Reporter, that Miss Elbel may answer."

The witness said she would refresh her recollection during the noon hour.

Tells of Conversations.

On direct examination she told of numerous conversations that she had had with Mrs. Wheeler pertaining to making out a list of bequests.

"She spoke about leaving some money to the First Methodist church and also to Bowman cemetery," Miss Elbel testified.

"She also said she wanted to remember Otto Knoelke, whom she said, had always been very kind to her. And then she told me that I was to be remembered. I protested, but Mrs. Wheeler turned to Mr. Rome Stephenson, who was present and said, 'She can't do anything if I put her in my will, can she?'"

Miss Elbel also said that Mrs. Wheeler had no lapses of memory and that she was not subject to repeating the same thing over and over again.

Testimony brought out heretofore by witnesses for the plaintiffs revealed the fact that Mrs. Wheeler was a woman of temper, often repeated things and had a poor memory.

Banker on Stand.

Rome C. Stephenson, vice president of the St. Joseph County Savings bank, was the first witness to take the stand for the defense. Mr. Stephenson acted as attorney for Mrs. Wheeler.

According to his own statements made on the stand, he advised her in drawing up her will, and also assisted in drafting the codicil of the instrument. Mr. Stephenson testified that Mrs. Wheeler consulted him about bequeathing money to the First Methodist church, the Bowman cemetery and several other devisees named under the will.

The strongest point scored by the defense from Mr. Stephenson's testimony was the opinion of the banker that he thought absolutely that the decedent was in her right mind prior to and at the time of drawing up the instrument.

Property involved in the liquidations is valued at more than $65,000, and much valuable business property is tied up pending the outcome of the court action.

The plaintiffs completed their case Thursday morning at the close of Dr. J. B. Bortling's evidence, which was subjected to rigid cross examination. The case is expected to occupy the attention of the circuit court until the middle of next week.

TO GIVE SEWING COURSE.

A course of six lessons in plain sewing will begin at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the Young Women's Christian Association and will continue through the month of April, every Friday evening. The classes will be under the instruction of a competent teacher and no fee will be charged as this is one of the privileges of the members of that association.

PLAYERS TO REPORT HERE ON APRIL 5

Orders to be Sent Out by Sec'y Baumbach—Showers May Not Be Ready Then.

Orders calling on the 23 players signed by Fred Smith of the local baseball company are being sent out and the men will be requested to put in their appearance on April 5. The entire squad is expected to reach the city about this time and by the last of the week, Smith expects to have enough men on the job to arrange for practice tilts.

The showers may not be finished by that time and a place to dress and bathe following practice will be necessary. Sec'y Baumbach has several plans in view and expects to complete arrangements in a few days.

Work at the ball park is progressing rapidly and the stand will be up in its new position in a few days. A strong concrete foundation is to be laid and the stand floors replaced. It will be placed against the Lincoln highway E. fence and will be so located that the sun will not bother the fans.

Smith is well pleased with the new arrangement and thinks that it will work out to the benefit of the players as well as fans. The sun may bother the right fielder a bit, but the other players will not suffer from its rays.

MUCH INTEREST EVINCED IN COMING RECITAL

Much interest is being taken in the forthcoming recital-concert by Mme. Johnstone-Bishop, to be given at the Progress club hall next Thursday evening. The great oratorio soprano will bring her own pianist with her, Miss Lyle Comstock, who will give several piano solos, and is said to be not only an exceptionally capable accompanist, but a solo artist of a very high grade.

Upon Mme. Johnstone-Bishop's part it is to be a "character" recital and will embrace songs of many nations, including one written by and dedicated to the singer by Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii.

Tickets are to be had at Elbel's music store and the Lexington Tea room. Program to be announced Sunday.

Hickey and Tramer

Roll 1154, Leading Locals in Doubles

News-Times Special Service:

TOLEDO, O., March 24. — W. T. Hickey and C. Tramer were the leading South Bend bowlers in the doubles of the American Bowling Congress tournament here this morning, the pair shooting 1,154, a mark that probably will land them at least a portion of the prize money.

E. Beebe and F. Miller, who shot 1,115, were second among the Hoosier pin men and they may also get a share of the awards.

Hickey's 237 in the middle game was a great help to himself and his mate. In the opener he rolled 193 and his partner hit 190. Tramer hit 188 in the "second game and both men fell down in the last one, Hickey getting 176 and Tramer 170.

H. Feltkorn and W. W. Wimer rolled 1,105 and T. Sharkey and L. Yockey hit the same mark. F. Kromer and George Koch came close to the same 1,100 mark with 1093.

M. Campbell and C. M. Lantz, who won the South Bend city tourney with a mark around 1,200, failed to live up to expectations. They shot only 1,015. W. Hoerstan and E. C. Ellissasser of Mishawaka, hit 1,022 on the early morning shift. Following are the scores:

Wool Call New School 'Polaski'

Residents of Southwest Part of City Circulate Petition Naming Building.

"Polaski" is to be the name of the new $100,000 school building that is to be erected on W. Sample st., where the portable schools are now located, if the board of education accepts the petition that will be presented by the residents of that district. It was decided to circulate the petition at a meeting of the Civic club in the Bowsher building Thursday night.

Members of the school board who accepted an invitation to be present at the meeting, failed to appear. It had been suggested by the Indiana historical commission that all public buildings erected this year be given some name connected with the state's history, but the people of that section of the city chose the name of Polaski, who was a leader in the Revolutionary war.

Clem Snoger, a member of the board of safety, explained to the people in a talk that better fire protection will be afforded that district with the addition of the new engine and the auto trucks that are being added to the equipment at the Central fire station. The members of the club had intended to ask for another station in that district, but instead will get up a petition for more fire alarm boxes.

Miss Virginia Tutt, head librarian at the public library, gave a short talk, in which she outlined a plan to send a hundred or more books to the community center for the use of the people. Branches of the public library have already been established at the Laurel and Kaley Civic clubs.

Better car service on the Sample st. line is to be asked of the Northern Indiana Railway Co. by a committee appointed at the meeting. At present cars run out there every half hour and the people want 15-minute service.

PRIEST'S DIFFICULTIES WITH HOUSEKEEPER ARE SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Difficulties which arose last January between Mrs. Rosa Czech and the Rev. Frank Kios, pastor of the Polish Independent church, W. Sample st., which threatened to air a big part of the church history in the courts, has been quietly settled.

The cases have been dismissed. Rev. Kios first filed suit against Mrs. Czech for criminal libel. She retaliated by filing suit for $1,000 heart balm on a breach of promise action.

According to Atty. Joseph Wypieszynski, who represented Mrs. Czech, Rev. Kios formerly lived in Minneapolis and was also known there under a different name.

The Polish Independent church resulted from a split in the St. Casimir's church following the attempt made to install Rev. Gruza as rector of the latter church. The feeling between the two factions still remains, it is said, and the suits filed in the local courts trace their origin to the church fight.

It is said that Mrs. Czech was formerly Rev. Kios's housekeeper, and that he discharged her. She has now returned to his employ. Mr. Wypieszynski said Friday when the cases were dismissed.

HOLD GIRL FOR MURDER

Jealousy Over Horse Buyer Is Believed Cause of Crime.

International News Service: ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky., March 24.—Miss Ella Monroe, 21 years old, was held in jail here today charged with the murder of Miss Eva Gregory, Miss Monroe denied all knowledge of the crime. Will Roy Dupin, a young man employed on the Monroe farm, was held as an accessory.

Gregory was shot off her horse as she was returning to her home last Tuesday afternoon. When the riderless animal reached the Gregory home, search resulted in the finding of the girl's body.

Jealousy over Clarence Quiggins, of Abingdon, Ill., was believed by the police to have inspired the murder. Quiggins had been in the neighborhood buying horses.

Bloodhounds put on the scent of the slayer went straight up to Miss Monroe and sniffed at her skirt.

CHARGES LAWYER WITH MISREPRESENTING IN SUIT

Atty. Francis S. Wright, member of the firm of Wright and Bayless, has been made defendant in a $400 damage suit filed by Lorenzo D. Lee in superior court. Lee alleges that Wright misrepresented ownership in a Rambler automobile which the plaintiff bought on Sept. 13, 1915. The complaint alleges that the automobile was owned by Joel R. and Charles H. Frazier at the time the plaintiff purchased it.

LEAGUES TO ORGANIZE AN EPWORTH UNION

Organization of an Epworth union, comprising the eight Epworth leagues of the city, will be perfected at a joint meeting of all of the leagues at the First M.
